Previous projects

In previous projects, our students have worked in various technical as well as non-technical companies to fill in (temporary) job positions, assist project teams or execute technical (laboratory) tasks. Also Market Research, IT/Web Development, (Graphic) Design, Data & Process Analyses are frequently asked student jobs.

TU/e students are used to work in multidisciplinary teams. We increasingly see that clients outsource a part of or complete projects to our students. EuFlex Technificent also offers you the opportunity to put together your own multidisciplinary team. After all a fresh young team does not only offer you the opportunity to think outside the box, but also gives you access to new insights, knowledge and techniques.

How does it work?

EuFlex Technificent provides tailored student search. Based on your needs, we figure out which student is the best match for you and your company. Just as our clients do, we encourage students to excel both in their studies as in their student jobs. This requires a healthy balance between work and study. For that reason placements for 8 to 16 hours a week are common. Occasionally students are available for more hours, depending on their personal study planning.

We understand you would like to keep talented students in your organization, that's why we made it possible to hire a student yourself after 1040 worked hours. Until you decide to do so, you conveniently pay per worked hour in line with your Collective labour agreement (CAO). The costs will be the gross hourly salary multiplied by a predefined factor.

AI student team

AI is becoming more relevant and popular in our society and also for your company. With AI, you can become more efficient, save costs and find new solutions more easily. Our AI student team consists of interdisciplinary students ranging with backgrounds of Industrial design to AI & Engineering systems masters. These students offer you, and your colleagues, trainings to get acquainted with AI and ChatGPT so you can use this technology effectively. We also teach you how to use AI for Social Media and writing (vacancy) texts. We want to get to know you and your company personally so we can help you with custom solutions so we can effectively facilitate your growth in the best possible way.
